INVOCATION

PREACHER: Oh great corporations, great is your power. You transcend the nations. Legislators beg for your favors. Truly thou art in bed with them. Bless us today by thy mighty rod of justice. As though dost observe us through thy security apparatus, we call upon thee to be present and favorable to us this day. In the name of the holy bottom line.

PEOPLE: Amen

[After Song - "We Are Overcome" -- verse 3, We're so small we failed]

CONFESSION

PREACHER: Oh great corporations, in you we live, and move and have our being. You teach us how to live, what to buy, and where. We are forever in your debt. May thy profits ever increase, and may you trickle down upon us in thy mercy. We confess that we have been unworthy of your greatness. We have not purchased everything that you have offered to us upon the altar of thy holy television set. We have sometimes gone forth to relieve ourselves during the time of your blessed advertisements. Forgive us O Ford, We confess that by word and deed we have not properly served thee o great Bank of America, and thee General Motors. We repent of finding meaning and purpose in our lives through wholesome relationships with others and nature. We repent of finding happiness in those places that have yet to come under thy beneficent monetized care and control. Have mercy upon us thy repentant and penitent servants. Tell us how you would like us to send you our money. If we still possess property, please tell us how you can take this burden away from us. May the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable to you Oh Ford and Chrysler.

PEOPLE: Amen
